What's become of the good old round steak that used to make a square meal?As winter comes on, soviet soldiers are likely to envy the ex-kaiser his woolpile.Never put off until tomorrow what you can snare somebody else into doing for you today.According to recent disclosures, a broker may be a man who goes broke on other people's money.With 23 baseball leagues in action it should be possible to put that old "skid-doo" sign on gambling.Now that calico has dropped 50 per cent, all that is needed is to induce the girls to wear it.How the smaller nations love to emulate the great! Mexico now has a coal strike on its hands.A woman always feels a slight re-signment when the man she has rejected is happily married.If selling a six-cent ham sandwich for 20 cents is an outrage, what is a Boston restaurant keeper?Europe is a trifle overburdened with a radical sentiment that advocates less work and more fighting.This is the greatest self-serve age since prehistoric times. Therefore, every man should be taught to cook.If an American Bolshevik could work his will, he would be able to stay right at home and die of typhus.Silk shirts are getting so cheap a fellow will have to have one or two of cotton to wear when he's dressed up.Now Japan and China are at it again. As a peacemaker, what is a proved the wildest kind of a boomerang.Archangel is reported to be in a state of terror from the official as-sination of intellectuals. What's in a name?The pinch of poverty to the modern woman is to be obliged to wear the same tint of hair for two months running.Cheaper shoes are reported on the way, and they'll probably get here about the time we're all wearing paper tips.Bolshevism invariably loses its appeal to anybody who has studied it sufficiently to get an inkling of what it means.Most business men hope to see the price of that which they buy come down and the price of that which they sell go up.The headlines who wrote "American woman may wear crown" forgot that in America all women are born with crowns.Inflicting a monkey with rabies in order that it may bite a king is a complicated method of assassination, to say the least.It is reiterated that prices must come down. The burning question, however, is whether the present generation will live to see it.A sneeze can be regulated to ineffectiveness, and a cough trained so that it won't explode right on the key word of the minister's sentence.Aviators are experimenting with a new "rain maker" project, but nothing over will be found in this connection that could improve on a county fair.According to the politicians, one-half of the American people are crooks and the other half angels, which would indicate that most of us "don't belong" at all.The Spanish prince is a corporal in the army. He may think he is somebody, but he has not yet run up against the awful majesty of a second lieutenant.It is announced that the Prince of Wales is in no hurry to get married.
It's pretty hard for a chap to be satisfied with royalty after spending six months with real folks.In the Philippines there is a campaign on to bar orientals. It suggests the feeling you get in New Hampshire when a native talks about "going down east to Backport, Me."

made her home with her daughter, Mrs. H. McIntosh, died there Sunday morning after a lingering illness.
She was aged 77 years. She was known to many friends as a kind old lady. Surviving are four children, Mrs. Hattie McIntosh of this place, Mrs. Hanna Kline of Youngstown, Michael and Owen of Lectonia. Funeral services were held from the Catholic church, Lectonia, Tuesday morn-of heart trouble at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Samuel Atkinson. He was taken sick last Tuesday evening, being at work at the Silver Mfg. Co., Salem, that day. Mr. Watson was a resident of this place for many years.

Since the death of his wife five years ago he has made his home with his daughter. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him and will be missed as a good father. He was 70 years of age. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Samuel Atkinson, and the following step-children: Mrs. Henry Brooks of Sebring, Mrs. Sally Shreve and Mrs.
Scott Herbert of Salem, Robert Bell, Grantsville, Ill., Mart Bell, Salem, James and Will Bell of this place.
Funeral was held from the home Wednesday afternoon, services being conducted by Rev. John Staley. Interment in Oakland cemetery.Freezing Fruits Proven Successful.
The United States Department of Agriculture has recently conducted experiments for preserving fruits by freezing instead of canning. The experiments are said to have proved that not only is it cheaper to freeze fruit in larger quantities than it is to can it, but it is more palatable and far superior to canned fruit for sherbets, preserves and jellies.Helps Wireless Operator.
By means of a new apparatus which rings alarm bells by radio, a wireless operator is now free to eat or sleep in peace, for the new device eliminates the possibility of losing distress signals or important messages while the receiver is removed from his ear.Dull safety razor blades—all makes perfectly sharpened. F. A. Morris Drug Store.STANDARD CONTAINER PREVENTS CONFUSIONDifferent Shapes and Sizes Now Used in Marketing.Establishment of a Universal Unit of Measurement is Necessary, According to Specialists of Bureau of Markets.To eliminate the confusion and dissatisfaction now existing over the use of a multitude of containers of different shapes and sizes in the marketing of fruits and vegetables, marketing specialists of the bureau of markets, United States Department of Agriculture, say that the establishment of a universal unit of measurement is necessary.The unit of bushel measurement recommended is the Winchester, or Winchester, bushel of 2,150.42 cubic inches.
With this container there is no difficulty in determining whether the measure is short, as it is required to be level full. It is a unit of sufficient size to permit the buyer to distinguish the multiples that are practicable for use in the sale or shipment of fruits and vegetables, and in the opinion of the bureau's specialists the establishment of this unit of measurement for containers of fruits and vegetables sold by volume would constitute an important step toward formulating a consistent policy of standardization that could be applied to practically all types of packages.The bureau's specialists also believe that all weight per bushel laws relating to fruits and vegetables should be repealed for the reason that there is no definite relation between dry measure and weight. For example, a bushel that contains 50 pounds of small apples may not hold more than 45 pounds of large ones. Containers are used interchangeably, and a box constructed to hold 50 pounds of apples becomes a 25-pound box when filled with snap beans.

LIME IMPROVES MOST SOILS

Application Should Be Made Considerably in Advance for Seeding Time for Clover.Lime in some form improves most soils for bluegrass and white clover, and unless soils are already well supplied with lime it should be added at the rate of not less than 100 pounds per thousand square feet. The application should be made considerably in advance of seeding time. Applications of lime are of very doubtful value for the bent grasses or the fescues unless the soils are very acid or contain large quantities of poorly rotted organic matter.Preliminary preparation, by which is meant the thorough stirring of the surface foot of soil, should begin several weeks prior to seeding to allow sufficient time for the ground to become thoroughly settled and for the weed seeds to germinate.Information concerning making and maintaining a lawn is contained in Department Circular 49, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. Copies may be had upon application to the department at Washington.

Independence.

True independence is one of the best assets of character. It raises life to higher standards. It makes a man conscious of his mission and increases his self-respect. There is no need of it making a man overbearing or snobish. In fact, the opposite is more likely to be true. True independence helps a fellow to recognize and respect the worth-while in others. Instead of being a leaver it helps a man to become a pro for some fellow who can be made strong by the right influence.
True independence teaches a man to be one of the group whose greatest joy is to make others better. The petty man is afraid someone will get more praise than he does and so he quietly suggests something to injure the other fellow. Big fellows are above such smallness. They stand out in rich contrast because they live for what they can put into life rather than for what they can get out of it. They are independent of petty schemes and find their joy in contributing to the world's uplift.—Exchange.

Touching, But Timely.

As this Column was walking down Calvert street the other morning, feeling this earth is all piffle when life's but a snuff, and effort is only to sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, its eagle eye filled with the sole kind of moisture allowed by law, and its classic countenance wishing it could secure an absolute divorce without publicity from its Roman nose. It met a man well known in local business and in federal circles. He glanced sympathetically at this Column's dilapidated frontpiece and hoarsely whispered in passing, "Have you heard the latest title for a popular song? It is 'Will You Meet Me in Hay Fever Time, My Dainty Ada Noida?'"—Baltimore American.

The Voice of Ignorance.

Senator Sheppard of Texas, author of the eighteenth amendment, said in Dallas the other day:"Only the old world, which knows nothing about it, attacks prohibition.
The old world is like the woman who wrote to the school teacher:"I don't want that Mamie should ingrass in grammar, as I prefer her ingrass in yuccful studies, and can learn her how to speak and write proper myself. I have went through two good grammars, and I can't say as they done me no good. I prefer her ingrass in French and hand painting and vocal music on the piano."

To Revive Frozen House Plants.

If a house plant happens to get frozen during the winter, it should be removed immediately to a cool, dark room and drenched with cold water.
The supposition that a plant should be revived with warm water and heated air is wrong, as the treatment must be gradual.

MIND IS KEENEST AT NIGHT

Fact That is Recognized by Most Writers and Other Workers With Their Brains.Many writers sleep with pencil and notebook under their pillows and a lamp at hand, so that they may dash off the thoughts that come to them in the watches of the night. It is said that Mary E. Wilkins Freeman has a typewriter handy on an extension spring, which she draws out from the wall on its shelf and places in position before her if she cannot sleep.There is about these thoughts a clarity that does not come with daytime thinking—a sureness of vision that approaches the clairvoyant.A problem with which we have wrestled in the daylight, weighing it with all our intelligence, is settled in a certain way, calmly and judiciously, and after mature reflection. Our decision seems the right one. And then, suddenly, in the dead of the night, that selfsame issue hobbles up before our mental vision, wakes us from a sound sleep and settles itself in quite another way, in one great flash! A strong white light has been turned upon the brain and has revealed there a conclusion of which we had no inkling before. The processes of arriving at it are a closed chapter. The clairvoyant brain has registered a result only. And again and again it will be found to be the right, the expedient solution.Memory, too, is peculiarly keen in the silences between midnight and 4 o'clock in the morning. All cobwebs have been swept from the brain by the first hours of sleep; the body and nerves centers are singularly rested; there are no noises to disturb and some subconscious power is at work within us.

HAD ANSWER IN READINESS

Ellen Terry's Display of Tact Won Enthusiastic Admiration of Miss Ethel Barrymore.Ethel Barrymore, apropos of a witty remark made by a young actress at a garden party, said:"This young lady reminds me of Ellen Terry, who was the wisest and most tactful woman I ever knew.""I once heard a story which is characteristic of Miss Terry's ready wit."
"She was sued by her dressmaker for an unpaid bill and the case went against her. Asking to be allowed to appeal, she gave as one of her reasons that the judge who rendered the decision was too old to understand the case."The judge of appeals reminded her that once before, in another suit, she had complained that her case had been tried by "a bit of a boy.""What age, may I ask, madam, do you want a judge to be?" the judge of appeals inquired."Your age," Miss Terry smilingly replied.

THROUGH ORCHARDSDiscusses Problems and Advantages of Rough Land at Farmers' Institute.Mr. Welday is a back-to-the-lander who is attracting the attention of his fellow farmers. He prefers the orchard to the college class room and nature's hills to the man-made town, and is enthusiastic in his choice. His neighbors say that he knows every tree in his 60-acre apple orchard by its first name. To see his poultry plant one would think that every bird also was called by name. He is a rare man and one assured of success, who can grasp the problems of his business in the large and still give attention to details as does Mr. Welday. The institute may well be congratulated on securing him as its two-day speaker.Many will hear him at the institute
